

CEHDL Seminar

The Center for Eliminating Health Disparities among Latinos invites you to attend a Brown Bag lunch seminar presented by:

Ana Abraido-Lanza, MPH, PhD
Associate Professor
Sociomedical Sciences
Columbia University

The Latino Mortality Paradox Revisited: Is acculturation bad for your health?

September 15, 2006
12:00 – 1:00 p.m.

University of Connecticut, Student Union
2110 Hillside Rd., Storrs, CT 06269

PRLACC Program Center, Room 437

Co-sponsored by the Institute of Puerto Rican and Latino Studies (IPRLS), the Center for Health/HIV Intervention and Prevention (CHIP), and the Puerto Rican/Latin American Cultural Center (PRLACC)

Please contact Sheila Taylor at sheila.taylor@uconn.edu with your box lunch choice